

ENERGY POLICY

Carcano Antonio S.p.A is a solid industrial enterprise that has been operating in the field of flexible packaging for over a century. Our corporate mission has been created from an entrepreneurial history spanning a hundred years, which is constantly evolving:

"To be the bravest company in our market thanks to a deep involvement that allows each of us to overcome the limit of our limits".

In line with our values, we are committed, by managing and developing our production facilities, to an efficient use of energy, establishing energy-saving objectives and a progressive increase in the share of energy from renewable sources, in a way that is compatible with the environment, and the natural and mountainous setting, that provides us with resources.

Our commitment takes the form of:

- Improving energy performance through the development of energy efficiency projects and promoting behaviour which is aimed at reducing energy consumption.
- Promoting the self-production of energy by improving the performance of our hydroelectric plant and increasing internal production from photovoltaics or other renewable sources.
- Purchasing energy from renewable sources.
- Evaluating and supporting, during the purchase and design phase, products and services that have high energy performance.
- Promoting the responsibility and sensitivity of internal and external personnel, at all company levels, so that there is constant predisposition and willingness to continuously improve energy performance.
- Respecting current legislation and regulations concerning energy which are applicable to our company.

As we are constantly driven towards improvement, we undertake to periodically review our performances, to assess their suitability, adequacy, and effectiveness and to establish future objectives, according to the ISO 50001 standard, making available the resources and adequate information to purpose, disseminating and supporting the principles of this Policy both formally and substantially.
